ADA Guideline Basics ²

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) provides access guidelines that most business are required to meet. Most residential applications do not need to meet ADA guidelines, but they are a good reference point for recommended ramp lengths. Contact your local building inspector for additional information.

ADA:

- Requires a 1:12 slope ratio which works out to be one foot of ramp for each inch of rise. For instance, a 20 inch rise requires a 20 foot ramp.
- Requires a Minimum 5' x 5' Flat area at the top of the ramp.
- Minimum 36 inches of clear space across the ramp.
- Minimum Platform size is 5' x 5'
- Maximum of 30 feet in a single run of ramp prior to a rest or turn platform.
- Must have handrails on both sides of the ramp.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a Federal (National) Law. Most States have their own version of ADA Guidelines and ADA Ramp Requirements, which may be more restrictive than the Federal Law. Massachusetts & California ADA Ramp Guidelines now require handicap ramps for Businesses to have a 48 inch minimum usable width. It is important to ensure your business is complaint to avoid potential code violations that may carry large fines. Installations requiring inspection: We suggest confirming compliance with your local building inspector prior to ordering, eliminating any potential issues with local building codes.
